

No inkjet proofing system is complete – nor can it provide contract-proof quality – without the right media. Based on detailed feedback from major publishers, printers and industry-standard organizations, CGS has created ORIS Professional Proofing Media specially formulated for the stringent needs of contract digital proofing.

ORIS Professional Proofing Media is manufactured to the highest industry specifications under the strictest manufacturing tolerances, ensuring consistent batch-to-batch quality, guaranteed. With their exclusive ultra-fine-grain nanoporous coating, ORIS Professional Proofing Media provide twice the surface area of common microporous papers, allowing for higher ink densities, uniform ink absorption, better shadow detail, larger color gamut and faster drying time. The ORIS Professional Proofing Media portfolio offers media free of optical brighteners, reducing metamerism and improving long-term stability. In response to industry shift, the ORIS Professional Proofing Media portfolio also includes offerings that are optical brightener inclusive, and which meet the latest industry standard of GRACoL 2013.
